

Nephrologist Spotlight (Continued)

David Brian Thomas, M.D.

Nephrologist

Dr. Thomas began working with PathLogic in 2016. He has over 20 years of experience in Nephrology and currently is Professor of Pathology for the Miller School of Medicine at the University of Miami. In addition to serving as a practicing pathologist, Dr. Thomas has previously served in academic appointments at University of North Carolina, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Montefiore Medical Center, and as visiting faculty at NYU Medical School. He received his medical degree from the Brody School of Medicine at East Carolina University, and completed his pathology residency and nephrology fellowship at the University of North Carolina Hospitals. Dr. Thomas has written multiple book chapters and published 4 dozen peer-reviewed papers related to nephrology. He has also contributed as a co-investigator on more than a dozen nephrology research grants and has lectured at numerous nephrology conferences and seminars. Dr. Thomas is board certified in Anatomic and Clinical Pathology by the American Board of Pathology.

David Brian Thomas, M.D.

Katherine Unger, M.D.

Nephrologist

Dr. Unger has over 14 years of experience in Nephrology working with PathLogic in West Sacramento, California since 2012. She earned her medical degree from Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, and completed her residency in Anatomic and Clinical Pathology at the University of California, Davis, where she also was Chief Resident. She then completed a fellowship in Hematopathology at the University of California, Davis, followed by a renal pathology fellowship at PathLogic. Dr. Unger is board certified in Anatomic and Clinical Pathology and has a subspecialty certification in Hematopathology from the American Board of Pathology.

Katherine Unger, M.D.

DRAFT

